

REGINA OGUNSUYI
Director, Human Resources
International Association of Chiefs of Police

Regina Ogunsuyi is the Director of Human Resources for the International Association of Chiefs of Police, and is responsible for working in conjunction with the Deputy Executive Director and Executive Director/Chief Executive Officer to advance the IACP mission by providing strategic HR counsel, coaching, staff development and overseeing the day-to-day operations of the Human Resources Department.

Prior to joining the IACP, Ms. Ogunsuyi worked as a human resources professional for a health care consulting firm, and a local transit agency in the Virginia/Washington D.C. area. Her human resources management career includes working for United Parcel Services (UPS) and Publicis Groupe Global Advertising Agency as a human resources manager and serving as the human resources director for the Chicago Christian Industrial League, a homeless shelter.

Ms. Ogunsuyi began her professional career in Chicago, Illinois as a social worker. During her tenure as a social worker, Ms. Ogunsuyi worked with inner-city kids as a clinical director for a residential facility, a foster-care manager, and a vice president for a national mentoring program.

Ms. Ogunsuyi also served a two-year term (2014-2016) as the Board President for the Trinity Episcopal School of Early Learning, a pre-school, located in Arlington, Virginia

Ms. Ogunsuyi holds a Master's Degree in Human Resources from Loyola University-Chicago; a second Master's Degree in Social Service Administration from the University of Chicago and a Bachelor's Degree from the University of Illinois. She also holds a SHRM-CP/PHR and a LCSW.