2022 SPPADS and SPPPOS Conference Packet

Dear

This letter is to request approval to have _____ attend the 2022 State & Provincial Police Academy Directors (SPPADS) and Planning Officers Section (SPPPOS) conference, July 24-27, 2022, in Denver, Colorado. The 2022 SPPADS/SPPPOS Conference will provide networking opportunities, professional development, and access to the latest training and best practices.

The SPPADS Conference is the forum in which to share information, educational strategies, lessons learned, and innovations in police training and education. The event offers three full days of content that will allow participants to focus on specific training strategies that can be brought back to their agency. Topics that are covered include curriculum design and defensibility, best practices in evaluation and testing, current use of force training methods, and many other themes that change from year to year. The ability to gain new contacts with state and provincial police academy directors and trainers is also invaluable.

This year, SPPADS and SPPPOS members will meet together to share how policy and training have common impacts on each other. These invaluable conversations will be helpful to share ideas and key takeaways with other members of their agencies.

Included below is the 2022 SPPADS/SPPPOS Conference packet that provides details about the meeting and a schedule-at-a-glance. Also included in this packet is an expense calculator to break down the total costs to attend the 2022 conference.

Attendance at the 2022 SPPADS Conference is a valuable educational and networking opportunity. Both your agency and your community will benefit from this investment. Thank you for your consideration.

Respectfully,

Captain Alex Lepley,
Utah Highway Patrol
Chair, SPPADS (2020-2022)

2022 SPPADS and SPPPOS Conference

The 2022 State & Provincial Police Planning Officers Section (SPPPOS) and Academy Directors Section (SPPADS) will be meeting for the first time in a joint in-person meeting to share information and best practices on training and policy development in state and provincial police agencies.

The State & Provincial Police Academy Directors Section (SPPADS) is dedicated to advancing the principles and competency of professional law enforcement instructors. The State and Provincial Police Planning Officers Section (SPPPOS) gives state and provincial police agencies a forum for information exchange, and access to the latest policies and best practices, with a focus on topics, needs, and challenges of interest to state police agencies.

This meeting encourages collaboration between sworn and civilian research and planning members as well as academy directors and instructors to exchange ideas, methods, practical experience, and to discuss critical issues. Members of both sections face common challenges that require training and policy-based solutions. The partnership between training and planning professionals is integral to navigating operational changes, police reform, recruitment/retention, and other challenges.

SPPADS and SPPPOS members will have their own breakout sessions as well as joint sessions to discuss the ways policy, planning, and training overlap.

The 2022 conference will be held July 24-27 in Denver, CO at the Sonesta Denver Downtown.
